LONDON, AUGUST 29.

THE courts of Vienna, Berlin, Paris, Stockholm and Dresden, have lately made great promotions among their military officers, from whence it is conjectured that they have something important upon the carpet.

The naturalization of three foreign personages of high distinction, we are informed, is now resolved upon.

It is reported, that a certain noble peer joined the minority on monday.

It is now said, the late dismission of some persons from their employments, is like to be a fund for much political altercation in the ensuing sessions.

The number of arm'd vessels cruising in the Straits of Bonifacio, to obstruct succours to Corsica, are no less than seven; five of which are known to have been purchased from foreigners; one of them, the largest, mounts 22 guns, and was formerly a French privateer.

It is said orders have been dispatched in the last mail for the West-Indies, to remove every impediment in the way of trade between the Spaniards and his majesty's American subjects; and to declare the Neutral islands entirely free.

AUGUST 30.

This day papers were struck up at the royal-exchange, requiring the sailors to repair on board his majesty's ships of war; but by what authority we know not.

On monday a ship sailed from Gravesend for Plymouth, to take on board proper officers, engineers, and stores, to proceed on a voyage, to make proper surveys along all the coasts ceded to us by the late treaty of peace down to the gulph of Mexico.

AUGUST 31.

Upon enquiry it appears, that upwards of 500 artizans in various branches of manufacture, have gone out of the kingdom, from London only, since the peace.

The magistrates of Florence, in virtue of an old dormant law, have seized, for the use of the poor, all the old corn in the warehouses of the ingrossers. The regency of Milan have tendered the expences due to his Sardinian majesty during the last war in Italy, in order to recover the countries that were mortgaged for them; which however, have not been accepted by the court of Turin.

SEPTEMBER 1.

They write from Berlin, that his Prussian Majesty, accompanied by Prince Henry, Prince Frederick, the hereditary Prince of Brunswick, with several other generals and persons of distinction, set out from thence, on the 20th ult. at five o' clock in the morning, for Silesia.

They write from Ratisbon, of the 20th inst. that Baron de Plotho, Minister from the King of Prussia, continued to make a strict scrutiny into the management of the household affairs of the Duke of Bareith for some years past; by which several persons of distinction, who had places at that court, are disgraced; among the rest, Sackel, a Jew, who had the direction of the mint, has had a strong guard of soldiers placed in his house.

The Polish election began last Monday, and may probably hold six weeks, therefore the account of count Poniatowski's being elected king, seems premature; though there is little doubt to be made, that he will be elected, since some thousands of Russian troops will doubtless procure him the Polish sceptre, the Czarina seeming determined to make him a king.—Zeal founded upon love is always more active than founded upon friendship.

Every body knows that when they go to Calais, or other parts of France, they are obliged to give their names, and a gentleman lately had the curiosity to get an account of the number of Englishmen, only at Calais, since the conclusion of the peace, and they amounted to upwards of 40,000. Now, as our people are in these journies remarkable for living in the highest manner, according to their abilities, the sum must be immense, and for ever lost to this kingdom.—It were therefore to be wish'd that they were obliged to pay a certain sum for the liberty of going, unless upon real business.

The four statues intended to be placed on Black-friars bridge are as follows: The right hon. William Pitt, Sir John Barnard, General Wolfe, and Admiral Boscawen.

We are informed, that Col. Stampel having declined the acceptance of that extensive tract of land in Nova Scotia, situated near the river of Holy Cross, the foreign protestant Palatines, who lately came over here on that gentleman's account, will be shipp'd off at the government's expence for the more southerly settlements; and transports are taking up in the river for the embarkation.

As soon as the distressed situation of the poor German emigrants was made known to the public, on Thursday last, so very laudable a spirit of benevolence was immediately exerted upon the occasion, that the same day 100 tents, and other necessaries, were sent them (by order) from the Tower; and several hundred pounds were subscribed by the humane and charitable inhabitants of London and Westminster for their relief: Which extraordinary acts of beneficence reflect great honour on the compassionate donors in particular. One hundred pounds was collected yesterday for them at Jonathan's coffee-house in Exchange-alley, and subscriptions are now open'd at Batson's and Tom's coffee-houses, in Cornhill, for their further relief.

A gentleman who is extremely well acquainted with the staple commodities of America, gives it as his opinion, that the woollen manufactures can never arrive to any great degree of perfection in the Northern colonies; the texture of their wool being vastly inferior to that of Great-Britain, and very severe penalties are inflicted on those who carry over either sheep or wool from England.

It is said the parliament will not meet for the dispatch of public business, 'till after Christmas.

The last letters from Warsaw, bring a confirmation, that Count Stanislaus Poniatowsky has been publickly recommended for the throne of Poland by the Russian and Prussian Ambassadors and residents in that city.

Yesterday a messenger arrived from our ambassador at Paris, who was immediately sent to his majesty at Richmond.

On wednesday 10,000l. of gun-powder was entered for Carolina.

The iron mines near Trois Rivieres, in the province of Canada, have been lately so well improved, by means of able workmen from England, that near 1000 lb. of ore are run daily for the purposes of manufacture, which is near one half more than was ever extracted while in the hands of the French.

We hear that the office of paymaster-serjeant is not for the future to center in one particular person in each company, as heretofore, but will be exercised monthly, by rotation, by every serjeant in the three regiments of guards; which, it is tho't, will prevent many frauds.

The shipwrights and caulkers in his Majesty's yard at Plymouth, now work a day and one tide, for the more speedily compleating the men of war ordered to be fitted out for foreign service.

We are informed patents are now making out for the addition of seven new baronets in Ireland.

We are informed, that among other advantages procured to this kingdom from the Duke of York's tour through Italy, divers English Merchants, settled at Leghorn, Genoa, Naples, &c. have been admitted to the privilege of free citizens, through the mediation of his Royal Highness.

It is said a quantity of ordnance, and three companies of foot will shortly embark for the better protection of the English settlements on Black River, Musketo Shore.

Letters from Warsaw say, that the best part of the baggage of the bishop of Cracow is arrived in that city, and that he is to follow in a few days. It is generally imagined that he has succeeded in his negociation; and that the late crown general count Branicki, with count Potoski, Palatine of Kiow, and the rest of the lords of his party, will return, and assist at the ensuing election; as will also prince Radzivil, if the state of his health will permit.

We are informed from Italy, that they still continue to talk at Genoa, of an embarkation of French troops for Corsica; where, in the mean time, the rebels are so successful, that it is apprehended Bastia will speedily fall into their hands. The states of the dutchy of Milan have granted a free gift to their imperial majesties towards defraying the expences of the election and coronation of the king of the Romans. It is thought their imperial majesties will make a journey to Inspruck, the capital of Tyrol, in the spring, in order to be present at the marriage of the Infanta, with the Archduke Leopold.

Private letters from Francfort say, that it is hoped the disputes relative to the administration of the bishoprick of Osnabrug, as well as those between the duke of Wirtemberg and his subjects, will be accommodated through the interposition of a certain great power. The junction of the Maese and Rhine, by means of a canal proposed, is found to be so practicable, that it is thought it will be undertaken as soon as the season of the year will permit.

This morning, at half an hour after eleven o'clock, his royal highness the duke of York arrived in Pall-Mall from abroad, and immediately waited upon her royal highness the Princess Dowager of Wales. His highness afterwards waited upon his majesty at Richmond.

It is said that an enquiry will be made very early in a certain great assembly next winter, why the arrears of the army have not been paid off, and by those means they have been hitherto detained.

From several parts of the kingdom we have received advice, that the harvest was mostly got in, and every where there was great abundance.

They write from Scotland, that they have had the finest harvest in all the parts of that kingdom, this year, that has been remembered for forty years past.

Some foreign advices seem to intimate, that the late extraordinary preparations of the French and Spaniards in their marine, were resolved upon, in consequence of undoubted intelligence received from their agents in this kingdom, that a change in the English ministry would assuredly take place before Christmas.

It is said that three ships of the line at Plymouth will very soon be put into commission.

It it said that the last hand has been put to the marriage-treaty, between his serene highness the reigning duke of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, and her royal highness the Princess Louisa-Anne, of England; and that his serene highness will arrive soon.

According to advices from Vienna, of the 14th of last month, a triple alliance is negotiating there, between the Imperial, French and Spanish courts, to which it is said, the court of Naples will accede.

They write from Lisbon, that the great armaments making in the ports of Spain, give no little uneasiness to the Portuguese, as not being certain whether part of it may not be intended against them.

We are informed that several additional fortifications will speedily be made to the two important garrisons of Gibraltar and Minorca.
